THE SITUATION CRITICAL.

After Greely Perhaps a Deluge of Blood.

The Very Existence of the French Republic Threatened.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The problem of the French Republic grows more intricate daily. It is now almost absolutely certain that the Republican factions will not combine, though they are not far from doing so. The Republic is confronted by the greatest peril that has ever threatened its existence. President Greely has expressed his determination to cling to his office until he knows who has been chosen as his successor. It is further asserted that he will not allow the newly-elected President to succeed him unless he shall be a Conservative and entirely acceptable to a large majority of the Republicans, even going to the length of using military force to prevent his taking possession of the office. How far Mr. Greely could carry out this programme no one can accurately judge, but all who know him believe that he would make the attempt at almost any odds if he believed himself justified in so doing. If M. Clemenceau should carry the election, or the Boulanger extremists succeed in electing the General through combinations with other sections, there will certainly be a row, and a bloody one, at that. The excitement is great, and party and factional feeling is running high to a point where the slightest thing may cause an outbreak. The commanders of the different army corps have received sealed instructions, which they are to open in the event of an outbreak following the election of a new President. A movement is spreading among members of the Right to propose Vice-Admiral Dompierre d'Horvay, who is now a member of the Chamber of Deputies, for the Department of Marine, as a candidate for the Presidency. This movement is being actively supported by President Greely in the course of which he disclosed the nature of the alleged Russian objections to M. Ferry becoming President. He said the grave and critical position of home affairs required that Greely should retain his post. There was sure to be an insurrection, he said, if M. Ferry was elected. La Lanterne accuses the Ferryists of offering bribes right and left. The paper appeals to President Greely to remain in office to save France. The latest in regard to the situation is that all efforts to induce President Greely to remain in office have proved useless.

A GREAT SCHEME.

The Standard Oil Company to Pipe Chicago With New York.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 31.—A gigantic scheme to pipe the Standard Oil Company, involving millions of dollars, has just been unearthed here. It is nothing more nor less than a grand trunk pipe line from Chicago to New York by way of the Ohio and Pennsylvania oil fields. The pipe line, when completed, will be nearly 1,000 miles long and will cost at least $5,000,000. It will connect the Ohio and the Pennsylvania fields, and oil can be piped eastward or westward as desired. The Standard Oil Company has already commenced to lease the right of way through Ohio and Pennsylvania. The best oil lands have been secured, and the intention is to develop and test all the country between Chicago and Lima, O. The step was necessary by the high railroad rates consequent upon the carrying into effect of the interstate commerce law, and the intention of the Standard Oil Company is to utilize the oil piped to Chicago for fuel as well as for illuminating purposes.

REIGN OF TERROR.

Bloody Affray Between Whites and Negroes on Cat Island.

MEMPHIS, Dec. 1.—A reign of terror prevails in Cat Island, in Crittenden County, Ark., some twenty-five miles below Memphis, on the Mississippi river. Martin Thomas and Joe Hamlett, two residents of that neighborhood, arrived in Memphis this evening and brought intelligence of an affray which occurred this morning between whites and negroes, which resulted in the killing of two negroes and the wounding of several others. The origin of the affray grew out of the arrest of the negroes, who, it is alleged, insulted some white women yesterday. They were to be tried this morning before a negro justice of the peace. Their act had aroused the indignation of the whites and about a dozen of both races had gathered on the preliminary investigation by the colored magistrate. As to who started the row nothing can be learned, but in the shooting that followed both the negroes under arrest were killed and two or three others were wounded. The negroes fled, but after arming themselves prepared to return to the scene of the conflict. They fired at Thomas and Hamlett, who were in a skiff, and when last seen they were going in the direction of where their companions had been killed. The negroes on Cat Island outnumber the whites ten to one, and serious trouble is anticipated. It is impossible to gather further details to-night.

SENSATIONAL WEDDING.

Interrupted by the Officiating Clergyman Himself, Who Makes a Startling Disclosure by Tearing a Mask from the Bride's Face.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—A well-dressed couple drove to the residence of Rev. J. W. Bagley, pastor of the Tabernacle Church, Camden, N. J., last evening, and requested the minister to marry them. The marriage ceremony was commenced, the man giving his name as Joseph R. Elton, of Overbrook, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, and the would-be bride that of Emma Fye, of the same place. Their answers were satisfactory, but the minister's suspicions were aroused by the fact that the woman kept her face heavily veiled, and positively refused to remove the veil when asked to do so. Finally, the minister pulled the veil from her face, and was astonished to find her features still concealed by a gauze mask. This he quickly tore off, and found the woman to be a negro, and a very handsome one. Bagley was indignant, and ordered them from the house at once. The man asked how much it would cost to keep the matter quiet, but the minister declined to shield him, and the couple left and took the ferry back to Philadelphia.

PRESIDENT GREELY.

Under Pressure, Steps Down and Out.

A Serious Riot Takes Place in the Place de la Concorde.

PARIS, Dec. 2.—President Greely's message resigning the Presidency of the Republic has been read in the Chamber of Deputies. In it Mr. Greely says he regards the votes taken by the Senate and Chamber of Deputies yesterday as a decisive demonstration necessitating his resignation. After recalling his services to the country, which assured tranquility at home and peace abroad, he declares that he leaves office with a feeling of sadness, while declining to be responsible for future events. At 1:35 p. m. crowds were in front of the Chamber of Deputies. The police cleared the approaches to the building and stopped traffic in the vicinity. The Deputies received the message with profound silence. M. Floquet read a letter from the President of the Senate summoning a congress of the two Chambers at Versailles to-morrow for the purpose of electing a new President. The sitting then closed amid cries of "Vive la Republique."

PARIS, Dec. 3.—Some serious rioting occurred in the Place de la Concorde last evening. The mounted guard charged the crowd, and several revolver shots were fired at the police. On three different occasions last week the lady arose from her bed and walked in her sleep. On the first night she was leaving the house dressed only in her night-clothes. A night printer who was returning home from work asked Mrs. Eldridge where she was going. She said she was on her way to church and must hurry, as she was late. The next night the woman got out through a trap-door on the roof of the dwelling and walked over the roofs of a block of houses. A policeman was almost scared to death at the sight of the white figure on the roofs. Mrs. Eldridge was finally rescued. Last night it was thought that the nervous excitement was over, but to make sure that the woman should not make her escape again, a daughter was placed in the same room with her and the door locked. About four o'clock this morning the daughter discovered that her mother had left the house. The police were notified, and after a long search the woman was found wandering around among the tombstones in Hollowback Cemetery. She was fast asleep and was dressed in her night-clothes. BANKING AND FARMING.

Two Interesting Public Reports—The Comptroller's Statement of the Condition of the National Bank and the Secretary's Report on the Work in the Agricultural Department.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency shows that the total number of National banks organized up to October 31 was 3,854, of which 625 have gone into voluntary liquidation, 119 have failed, leaving in operation at that date 3,110. The total number of new banks formed during the last year was 235; total number closed during the year 38, of which 25 went into voluntary liquidation and 13 failed.

The gross increase in National bank capital during the year amounted to $95,904,775, of which $2,690,000 represents an increase of capital by banks existing November 1, 1886. There was, however, a decrease of capital of $3,333,420, of which $4,877,450 was the aggregate capital of the thirty-three banks which went into voluntary liquidation and failed, and the remainder represents a decrease of capital by banks still in operation. The net increase of capital for the year is, therefore, $93,571,355.

On the other hand there is a net decrease of $2,000,000 in the circulation of National bank notes. The decrease resulting from the surrender of circulation by banks still in operation is $2,000,000. The increase of circulation by banks going into voluntary liquidation and failing is $1,274,300, making a gross decrease of $904,700, offset by a total increase of $8,333,355, which consists of an increase of circulation of $4,992,000 and an increase of circulation by previously existing banks to the amount of $3,341,355.

In the cases of four of the five banks which failed the creditors have received principal and interest in full, and in the case of the fifth the total of dividends amounts to 100 percent. The total amount of money paid in dividends during the last year is $2,000,000;

R. had all swine there would be an increase in the debt every month of the year.

The Democratic caucus of the House of Representatives made nominations for the various offices Saturday evening. There was a contest only for the office of Doorkeeper, in which Hurt, of Mississippi, pi, defeated Donaldson, of Tennessee. John G. Carlisle was nominated for Speaker; John B. Clark, of Missouri, for Clerk; John P. Lee, of Ohio, for Sergeant-at-Arms; L. Dalton, of Indiana, for Postmaster, and W. H. Milburn for Chaplain.

Many of the new Senators slipped into Washington and pre-empted the best seats in the Senate Chamber in defiance of the unwritten law which relegates the newly-elect to the back tier of seats. The old fellows are full of wrath, but are powerless to help themselves. In the House the seats are distributed by lot.

The President has sent to the Senate the following nominations: L. Q. C. Lamar, to be Justice of the Supreme Court; W. F. Vilas, to be Secretary of the Interior; Don M. Dickinson, to be Postmaster General; C. S. Fairchild, to be Secretary of the Treasury; James W. Hyatt, to be Treasurer of the United States.

By a collision between a wild engine and a freight train Saturday, the Louisville and Nashville road, near Franklin, Ky., Patrick Gorman, of Bowling Green, was killed, and Engineer Fenwick seriously injured. While lying beneath the engine the flesh on one of his legs roasting meanwhile, Fenwick took his orders from his pocket and read them. Had he found that he had miscounted them and caused the accident, he says that he meant to cut his throat and die then and there. He is expected to recover, but will be a cripple.

Kentucky has the strongest representation in Congress of any State in the Union. John G. Carlisle, now serving his third term as Speaker of the House, is one of the ablest men and greatest statesmen now living. Jas. B. Beck is the recognized leader of the Senate, and Joe C. S. Blackburn one of the ablest members and most eloquent speakers of that great body. Wm. C. P. Breckenridge enjoys the reputation of being the most eloquent and impressive speaker of the House, and is one of the leaders. In fact, the delegation does not contain a man of mean ability. Hurrah for old Kentucky!

The President's message is shorter than was expected, and treats almost wholly of the reduction of the tariff. The document is brief and to the point. He says that under the present state of affairs, "the public Treasury, which should only exist as a conduit conveying the people's tribute to its legitimate objects of expenditure, becomes a boarding place for money needlessly withdrawn from trade and the people's use, thus crippling our national energies, suspending our country's development, preventing investment in productive enterprise, threatening financial disturbance, and inviting schemes of public plunder."

For the consideration of those Republicans who constantly insist that the Democrats favor free trade and principles hostile to the interests of the laboring man, we present the following paragraph of the message:

FOR REVENUE ONLY.
"It is not proposed to entirely relieve the country of this taxation. It must be extensively continued as the source of the Government income; and in a readjustment of our tariff the interests of American labor engaged in manufacture should be considered, as well as the preservation of our manufacturers. It may be called protection, or by any other name, but relief from the hardships and dangers of our present tariff laws should be devised with special precaution against impairing the existence of our manufacturing interests. But this existence should not mean a condition which without regard to the public welfare or a National exigency, must always incur the realization of immense profits instead of moderately profitable returns. As the volume and diversity of our National activities increase, new recruits are added to those who desire a continuation of the advantages of which they conceive the present system of tariff taxation directly affords them. So stubbornly have all efforts to reform the present condition been resisted by those of our fellow-citizens thus engaged, that they can hardly complain of the suspicion, entertained to a certain extent, that there existed an organized combination all along the line to maintain their advantage."

Not a few of the citizens of Louisville have recently become greatly excited over the astounding facts that several of their friends who had been pronounced incurable and beyond all hope—suffering from that dreaded monster, Consumption—have been completely cured by Dr. King's New Medical Discovery for Consumption, the only remedy that does positively cure all throat and lung diseases, Croup, Croup, Asthma and Bronchitis. Trial bottles free at K. F. Vinson's Drug store. Large bottles $1.

Kentucky Bonanzas.

[Engineering and Mining Journal.]

The mineral resources of Kentucky to a description of which so large a space is devoted in this issue of the Journal, are well worthy of the attention of our readers. Kentucky is by nature, beyond all question, one of the most highly favored States in this country. It possesses a superb climate, where the Anglo-Saxon race can attain its maximum development, free from the stunting influence of the severe climate of the far north and from the annealing effect of southern heat. It is the finest cattle-growing portion of the United States; every hill side is watered with living springs, and even its forest-covered hills are green with the famous Kentucky "blue grass." It can probably grow better stock and feed more cattle to the acre of land than any other portion of this continent.

Unlike most of our mineral districts, which are more or less sterile, this Kentucky blue grass country is underlaid with coal in perhaps greater quantity and of a good quality as any of our other great coal-bearing fields. Professor Proctor, in an extremely interesting manner, describes on another page, the vast mineral resources of this favored State, and calls attention to the fact that they are now for the first time being made accessible and available by the building of several important railroads.

Yet with all these unsurpassed or even unequalled advantages in natural wealth and nearness to market, Kentucky grazing and mineral land can be purchased cheaper to day than can much inferior land in far distant States and Territories. The holding of wild land in immense estates and the unsatisfactory condition of many land titles have kept back the development of these great natural resources and have heavily depreciated the market value of the land. These drawbacks are now rapidly disappearing, and there are certainly few places on this continent that to-day offer as great opportunities for the profitable investment of capital as do the mineral, grazing and timber lands of Kentucky.

The Next Legislature.

[Courier-Journal.]

The next session of the legislature, judging from present appearances, will be unusually brief. The election of a United States Senator is settled in advance, and it will not take an hour to go through the forms and record the will of the people.

The next matter that will engage the attention of that body will be the amendments to the new revenue law. This law has proven quite effective. In some minor features it is objectionable, but a few simple amendments will cure its defects and make it as popular as its comprehensive. This will require some thought and consideration, but as there is no wide divergence of opinion ten days will suffice to accomplish this work.

The next matter to be considered will be our criminal laws. In some important particulars these need revision, but the subject has been widely and warmly discussed and the amendments are few and simple, and a few days' discussion will settle all such questions.

Outside of this our school system requires some attention, but there is nothing that seems to require long discussions or any particular excitement. The cost of our legislative sessions has been nearly $150,000. The cost is in proportion to the length of service. A short session saves money directly and indirectly, and the tax payers of the State will be glad to know that the prospects are bright for the shortest and least eventful session in our legislative history.

HALL'S

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure now on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

Shams Which a Newspaper Man is Certain to See.

One of the great trials of the newspaper profession is that its members are compelled to see more of the sham of the world than any other profession. Through every newspaper office, day after day, go all the weaknesses of the world, all the vanities that want to be puffed, all the mistakes that want to be corrected, all the dull speakers that want to be thought eloquent, all the meanness that wants to get its wares noticed gratis in the editorial column in order to save the tax of the advertising, right who were never right; all the cock-brain philosophers with stories as long as their hair and as gloomy as their finger nails, in mourning because bereft of soap; all the bores who come to stay five minutes but talk five hours. Through the editorial and repertorial room, all the follies and shams of the world are seen, day after day, and the temptation is to believe neither in God, man nor woman. It is no surprise to me that in this profession there are some skeptical men; I only wonder that newspaper men believe anything.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage.

A large crowd of Louisa folks gathered at the depot last Saturday morning to bid good-bye to Dr. Wroten and his daughter, Miss Minnie, who were departing for Southern Dakota, where the Doctor takes a position as Superintendent of the Cheyenne Agency Indian school, at a remunerative salary. Miss Minnie is an assistant. The school is supported by the Government, and the Doctor received his appointment from the Secretary of the Interior about three weeks ago. He was, up to the time of his departure, Principal of the Louisa Public School, which he conducted in a most satisfactory manner and the patrons of the school regretted very much to part with his services. We, in common with all Louisa people, wish him as pleasant a journey as is possible among the Indians, and hope that at some future time not far distant he may again become a resident of Louisa. His family will remain here until next spring.

WONDERFUL CURES.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., says: "We have just selling Dr. King's New Discovery Eucalyptic Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of Consumption have been cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Eucalyptic Bitters. We guarantee them always. For sale at R. F. Vinson's Drug Store."

Thomas Chambers, one of the members of the Hatfield gang for each of whom a $500 reward is offered by the Governor, has been captured and is now in jail at Pikeville.

DON'T

Let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a light thing. But it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption. Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there is trouble ahead.

All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Bucklen's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and know how it is themselves, for only 75 cents. Ask any druggist.

Money to be Made.

It is said that dull times are not known by the agents for the great publishing house of George Stinson & Co., of Portland, Maine. The reason of this exceptional success is found in the fact that they always give the public that which is keenly appreciated and at prices that all can afford. At present we understand, their agents are doing wonderfully well on several new lines. They need many more agents in all parts of the country. Those who need profitable work should apply at once. Women do as well as men. Experience is not necessary, for Messrs. Stinson & Co., undertake to show all who are willing to work, not hard but earnestly, the path to large success. It should be remembered that an agent can do a handsome business without being away from home over night. Another advantage—it costs nothing to give the business a trial, and an agent can devote all his time, or only his spare moments to it. Stinson & Co., guarantee grand success to all who engage and follow simple and plain directions that they give. We have not space to explain all here, but full particulars will be sent free to those who address the firm; their full address is given above.

Four Days' Proceedings in This Famous Case.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 29.—Edward L. Harper, vice president of the late Fidelity National Bank of Cincinnati, was this morning placed on trial in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Ohio. Judges Jackson and Sage presiding, charged with criminal violation of almost every section of the U. S. Revised Statutes for the government of national banks, the title of the charge was:

District Attorney Burnet made the statement of the case for the Government. He suggested that each of the jurors be furnished with a copy of the indictment, which was done. Mr. Burnet then proceeded to state what the Government expects to prove. He began by reading Section 6309 under which Harper was indicted. The defendant is charged with the violation of every term of this section.

pointing the case in an elaborate way. Major C. B. Blackburn, counsel for Harper, made the statement for the defense. Without the submission of a single point it is manifest that the matter presents an intricate commercial account. They would come to the same conclusion as himself, that it would be better to base the matter on the testimony which may be produced. When all is heard and all was produced he felt that Edward L. Harper would not be found guilty of a criminal violation of the banking laws of the United States.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—The trial of E. L. Harper is rushing along with astonishing rapidity. Instead of taking four weeks to settle his fate, it now seems that the case will go to the jury in ten days.

Mr. Hoyt. They were for $100,000 each. They went to my credit in the American Exchange National Bank. The amount of wheat bought was $9,000,000, some on margin, the rest at option. The wheat was never delivered to Wilshire, Eckert & Co. Required 5 per cent. margin. Think the money received from Wilshire, Eckert & Co. came in drafts or credits issued from the Fidelity National Bank. Mr. Kershaw gave in detail from the statement of account the drafts which had been drawn on Wilshire, Eckert & Co. The prosecution of

Our firm had business with J. W. Hoyt and made purchases of wheat for him. Can't say how much except that we had 7,099.00 bushels on hand June 24. May 31 we had the largest amount. Hoyt gave drafts as security for part payment and arranged for remainder. The margins went as high as 17c., but was variable. We collected the amount designated by letters of advice by draft from time to time as we needed it.

Joseph W. Wilshire sworn: Am a broker in grain and provisions. Know E. L. Harper. My Wilshire identified a bundle of checks signed by J. W. Wilshire or Wilshire, Eckert & Co. W. Wilshire & Co. A check dated October 12, 1896. First National Bank to J. W. Wilshire or order, $15,500. Wilshire, Eckert & Co., indorsed by J. W. Wilshire was offered in evidence. Mr. Wilshire testified that this check was used in the Fidelity Bank, and was placed either to the credit of J. W. Wilshire or Wilshire, Eckert & Co. Was not presented to the bank on which it was order, and as our Chicago correspondents required additional margin, we deposited in the Fidelity checks to the credit of their bank in Chicago. The credit was entered upon bank book. Q. Then your accounts on the books of the Fidelity would be credited by the bank with the checks of the Chicago bank? A. Yes, did you use the credit? A. In nearly every case these amounts were deposited to the credit of some Chicago house—deposited in the Fidelity. There may have been one or two exceptions where the deposits were in other than the Fidelity, but I can not now recall what the excep-

CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.—Joseph Wilshire was put through a rigid cross-examination to-day by Major Blackburn. He testified that the arrangement regarding the deposit of those checks were made with Mr. Harper alone. Did not post books up to last transaction because we could not get point-sales from our Chicago correspondents. Kept account with E. L. Harper as Matthews & Co; was instructed to do so by Mr. Harper. He gave orders to witness to purchase what; the limit was between 300.00
